AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

1. Defendant Scott would show that while he is not a transferee as that term is used under the Texas Uniform Fraudulent Transfer Act, if there is any argument that he should be treated as a transferee, Defendant Scott is entitled to the protections afforded in section 24.009 of the Texas Uniform Fraudulent Transfer Act because at all times Defendant Scott acted in good faith and, to the extent there was any exchange involving Scott, which he denies, Scott provided reasonably equivalent value.

2. Defendant Scott would show that the imposition of exemplary or punitive damages in this case would be fundamentally unfair and would violate the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Texas in one or more of the following respects:

- a. Due Process requires proof of gross negligence and punitive damages by a standard greater than the "preponderance of the evidence" standard. Due process requires proof of such claims by at least a clear and convincing evidence.
 - b. The assessment of punitive damages, a remedy that is essentially criminal in nature, constitutes infliction of a criminal penalty without the safeguards guaranteed by the Fifth, Sixth, and Fourteenth Amendments to the Constitution of the United States; the Eighth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and Article I, Sections 13 and 19 of the Constitution of the State of Texas.
3. Plaintiffs' claim for punitive damages is controlled and limited by Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code Section 41.008.
4. Plaintiffs' claims are barred, in whole or in part, under the doctrine of proportionate responsibility, set forth in Chapter 33 of the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code, based on the negligence, fault or other liability of Plaintiffs and/or other third parties.

5. Plaintiffs' claims are barred by the existence of one or more express contracts.

Plaintiffs' claims are barred by legal justification, privilege and/or the business judgment rule.
